THE SAENGERFEST.

Origin of the Festival—Decorations—Preparations for the Reception of Visitors—Societies Represented — How Turners Hall and the Rink Appeared—The Torchlight Procession—Address of Welcome by Mayor Blackmore—Speech by Gov. Geary—The Concert—The Programme for To-day, etc., etc., etc.

The Saengerbunds have become as popular in this country as they are in Europe, and every year their members increase, and the concerts given during the annual festivals are more largely attended. These societies had their origin during the struggle for freedom in Germany, and their popularity was especially marked during the contest of Prussia against Napoleon in 1813. They increased rapidly, and from that time have continued to exist. In 1848 a fresh impetus was given to the societies, and at the same time a revival of the Turners Societies was exhibited. In 1866 a grand Saengerfest was held at Dresden, at which more than twenty-five thousand singers took part. These singers represented every part of Europe and America, and the once noted Frohsinn Society, of this city, was there in the person of two of its members. In this country the societies multiplied very rapidly, and after some time a National Union or Bund was formed. But the vast number of singers who flocked to these annual meetings of the Bund as delegates formed a large and unwieldy body, and but comparatively little pleasure could be guaranteed at the concerts. To obviate this crowd of performers, and at the same time to keep alive the interest in the development of the societies, it was deemed proper to divide the United States into several Districts, and thus reduce the number of singers and at the same time the expense attending the annual meetings. The Saengerfest now being held in this city is in pursuance of this arrangement, this district comprising all of Western Pennsylvania, Buffalo, New York, Western Virginia, and Eastern Ohio.

WELCOME.

Yesterday preparations for the reception of the singers began to be manifest all over the city, and the day being unusually fine, the general appearance of everything was as brilliant as smoky Pittsburgh often sees. The Turners' Hall was a very hive, so busy was every one; the portico over the main entrance was heavily hung with oak wreathes and colored festoons with a shield bearing an appropriate motto of welcome on either side. Inside we found the gymnasium, on the ground floor, hung with festoons of oak, spruce and artificial flowers, while up stairs in the little theatre on the third floor the decorations were unusually rich and heavy. On the second floor are the lunch and refreshment rooms, which, with their generous counters and white spread tables, give a pleasant air of boundless hospitality to the place.

The dining room is presided over by that prince of caterers, Mr. William Holtzheimer, of the popular Fifth street restaurant. Into this apartment are inducted the members of the several delegations upon arrival, and a substantial repast is afforded. The culinary department is presided over by Fred. Dierst and a number of volunteer lady assistants. The main hall of the building, wherein will be held the concert, bears above the columns enwreathed shields bearing the names of the great musical composers Germany has furnished. On the walls are handsome wreaths with shields enclosed, bearing the following names of societies represented in the Saengerfest:

Harmonie, Cleveland, O.
Cecilia Glee Club, New York.
Lincoln Mannerchor, Birmingham, Pa.
Mannechor, Youngstown, O.
Harmonie, Pittsburgh, Pa.
Liedertafel, Erie, Pa.
Lorely, Pittsburgh, Pa.
Germania, Dunkirk, New York.
Mannechor, Wheeling, W. Va.
Mannechor, Cleveland, O.
Gratitband, Cleveland, O.
Teutonia, Allegheny, Pa.
Frohsinn, Pittsburgh, Pa.
Union, Buffalo, New York.
Saugerbund, Buffalo, New York.
Concordia, Birmingham, Pa.
Gesangverein, Cleveland, O.
Harmonia, Wheeling, W. Va.
Liedetafel, Akron, O.

DECORATIONS.

Smithfield street is, more than any other thoroughfare, brilliant in its welcome, and for several squares almost every house seems to be doing what it can to honor the singers. Most especially did we note three buildings, viz: a German drug store on the corner of Strawberry alley and Smithfield street is profusely decorated with green, while across the front is a huge yard wide muslin sign, on which in letters of oak leaves are the words Wilkommen Sænger. The office of the Freiheits Freund is also covered with decorations, with an appropriate motto of welcome over the door, and a handsome star spangled banner floating from the staff on the roof. Reinhardt's hotel is also as gay as any other house in the street.

Freis' barber shop was elegantly decorated, as was also Demmler & Bros. tinware establishment. Keller's liquor store, Seidle & Zweidinger's music store, and a number of buildings adjacent were most handsomely decorated. Lower down toward the river the display was equally creditable. The German book store of J. G. Backofen was neatly and handsomely decorated with evergeeens. On an elaborately painted transparency over the doorway was a motto from Shillers' "Might of Song;" reading in English as follows:

"And while the soother's magic measure flow,
Smoothed every wrinkle on the brows of woe,
So by harsh custom far estranged
Along the glad and guileless track,
To childhoods' happy home unchanged,
The swift song warts the wanderer back."

On Fifth street the decorations were also very fine, especially the banking house of Ph. Mertz, J. W. Pittock's and Reineman, Meyran & Seidle's. Flags were hung from all the newspaper and public buildings. H. Kleber & Bro.'s music store on Wood street was the best display on that thoroughfare. Penn street was also decorated in a beautiful and tasteful manner. The private displays in Allegheny were fully equal to those on this side of the river, and upon the whole our German element have nothing to be ashamed of in their method of awarding a poetic and hearty welcome to their guests.

On St. Clair street Glockner's wine house and the restaurant next door were very elaborately decked. Across from tower to tower at the one end of the bridge, between garlands of evergreen are the words "Welcome to the Iron City," and at the other end "Welcome to the Saengerfest." Over both entrances to the Rink arched canopies covered with verdant wreathes have been placed, while across the street from side to side are stretched wreathes and colored festoons, making that portion of Robinson street almost a shady bower. Inside some changes have been made. The stage instead of being arched is adorned with pillars of evergreen and handsome vases of rare exotics. On the wall at the back of the stage a combined shield contains the names Germania and Columbia, while all along the sides are shields or placards with the names of all most famous in the music and literature of Germany, America and England. On one side of the stage is the motto by Tom Moore which we quoted on Saturday, and on the other is the popular singer's motto—

Herz und Lied
Frisch, Frei, Gersund
Wahn dirs Got
Du Saengerbund.

Each one of the twelve cords hanging from the windows in the roof will have a brilliant boquet in place of a tassel. Almost innumerable rustic baskets of plants and crystal globes of gold fish hang from the beams, and at the end of the building opposite the stage is a handsome rustic pedestal surmounted by a collossal bust of Schiller.

Arrangements have been made by which a few more choice seats can be reserved. This has been done by a change in the place for the speakers, and the sale of these seats for to-night's concert takes place this morning at Kleber's and Mellor's. The pieces to be used to-night are well selected and are none of them long enough to fatigue a mixed audience. The gem of the evening will be "The Triumph of German Song," but "On the Open Sea," and Gounod' "Sanctus" are looked for with almost as much interest by connoiseurs and all lovers and appreciators of good music.

THE PROCESSION.

At half past seven o'clock, the hour set apart for the moving of the torch light procession to the Rink, a copious fall of rain took place, which seriously interfered with the success of the affair. The violence of the storm, however, passed over before eight o'clock, and the various home societies, with their guests, preceded by a brass band and a large detachment of Mayor Blackmore's police, moved in procession. There were probably six hundred in the ranks, each bearing a flaming torch, presenting altogether a magnificent appearance. In a carriage were the Governor of Pennsylvania, the Mayors of Pittsburgh and Allegheny, and the Chairman of the Committee on Arrangments. This was followed in the procession by other carriages containing the various Committees and Chairmen of the visiting societies. All along the line of procession the houses were brilliantly illuminated, and at various points a profusion of fire works were sent heavenward in honor of the occasion.

AT THE RINK.

Long before the procession arrived at the Rink the multitude had assembled along Robinson street, which was decorated with wreaths of evergreens suspended across the street, and Chinese lanterns hanging from every window, until it was almost impossible to pass through the crowd which soon after the procession arrived had secured seats in the Rink, creating considerable confusion. After quiet had been restored, the entertainment was commenced with a grand overture entitled the "Frieschutz," by Toerge's Orchestra, which was rendered in a most admirable manner.

THE MAYOR'S ADDRESS

Mr. Adolph Krebs, President of the Saengerfest, then introduced Mayor Blackmore in a brief address in German:

The Mayor said:

WELCOME SPEECH OF MAYOR BLACKMORE.

GENTLEMEN—It gives me great pleasure to meet you, my German fellow citizens from abroad—to extend to you my heartfelt greeting—and, in behalf of the citizens of Pittsburgh to extend to you the hospitalities of our city. The occasion is one of unusual interest, and I heartily sympathise with you in the success of the great "Saengerfest" about to be inaugurated here.

Those arts which tend to soften the asperities of life and refine the tastes, should be especially encouraged and cultivated. Music—the divine handmaid of Heaven—whose influence is felt in every department of life, that soothes our cares, animates our conflicts, imparts geniality to our social intercourse, and lifts the soul in its religious aspirations to the great Creator. Music, I say, is one of the gifts that belong especially to your great nation; to the "Faderland" must we look for its truest interpretation. May we receive from you a portion of that inspiration so beautifully blended with the more solid characteristics of your race; then will the angularities of the American character be torn down and its genial influence felt in imparting a more full and perfect sympathy.

But, gentlemen, I feel that I cannot do justice to this subject, and I refrain from dwelling further on it. May you, during your sojourn here, realize the utmost enjoyment, and may you bear with you on your return to your homes many pleasant recollections of your visit to Pittsburgh.

The resident societies then sang a grand chorus in German, which elicited loud and prolonged applause from the audience.

GOV. GEARY'S ADDRESS.

Mr. Krebs then introduced Gov. Geary, who spoke as follows:

MY FRIENDS AND FELLOW CITIZENS:—I am compelled to beg pardon from this august assembly for appearing before it without a written address, but, inspired by the gorgeous display and pageant which we have just left, and by the charming music, both vocal and instrumental, I feel that I can say a word or two without preparation. When we reflect that our fathers have provided years ago a platform so broad that it is large enough for the Americans of all nationalities, we cannot wonder that Europeans should flock to our shores, attracted by the promises held out of life, liberty and the free pursuit of happiness, and wherever the Germans have touched from the Atlantic to the Pacific the land has smiled and blessed their labors, and now I am told that five States are represented here, delegations have come from New York, West Virginia, Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania, and as Chief Magistrate of this great Commonwealth I tender to them all a hearty welcome. I have acted as magistrate in other places, and never have I failed in extending the same feeling to the foreign as to the American born citizens. On the battle-fields of the nation I have been surrounded by noble German soldiers, and it is therefore no wonder that to-night my heart gushes out to them, and (pointing to a white star among the decorations) it has been my lot to lead under that star 2,000 Germans who loved it only less than the stars and stripes, half way up to the skies to victory. In Mexico the Germans had won immortal honor, and in the late rebellion thousands of them had come to the rescue of the flag of their adoption.

I most heartily approve of these great meetings which win for them the respect of their fellow citizens. I feel that it is good for us to be here, it is good for me to be here, and I pray God that you may all have a good time and enjoy yourselves.

I feel that here as elsewhere where I have seen great gatherings of Germans, the laws of our nation are safe. In Philadelphia, where I met 20,000 Germans, I did not meet one drunken man among them. I honor the German population and once more extend a most heartfelt welcome.

One of the singers proposed three cheers for General Geary, then one of the audience proposed three for the leader of the White Star.

The enthusiasm at the close of the Governor's remarks was most intense, and some one in the audience proposed three which was heartily responded to.

The Allegheny Quartette Club, lead by Prof. Slack, was then introduced, and sang in a most excellent manner "Sleep Gentle Lady," which was highly applauded by the audience, and the Club was called out a second time, when they reponded with "Good Night," which was received with loud and prolonged applause.

Teorge's Orchestra then played "Steiger March," by Faust, which was highly applauded by the Germans.

Rev. C. Schilling was then introduced and delivered an oration in German. His theme was German music, German poetry, and German composers, all of which he eulogized to a considerable extent. His remarks were listened to with marked attention by the Germans, who appeared well pleased with the speaker, and evinced their appreciation of his address by frequent rounds of applause.

At the close of Mr. Schilling's address the Allegheny Quartette Club was again called upon and responded with "Dreams of Home," which was admirably rendered.

The grand feature of the entertainment was the closing exercises, the singing of the "Star Spangled Banner" by the resident singers, accompanied by Toerge's Orchestra. It was sung as Germans only can sing it, and must be heard to be appreciated.

The audiences was then dismissed, and notwithstanding the entertainment was continued until a late hour in the night and the inclement weather, all expressed themselves fully satisfied with the opening exercises of the Saengerfest.

THE CONCERT TO-NIGHT.

The Grand Concert at the Keystone Skating Rink, by the German singing societies in attendance at the Saengerfest, comes off this evening, and promises to be one of the most successful ever given in this vicinity.

The arrangements have been extensive, and the opening ceremonies at the Rink last evening was an earnest of the success which will be achieved to-night. The programme for the concert embraces a selection of rare music, such as our citizens have not often had an opportunity to listen to, and includes sacred, patriotic and descriptive compositions. The arrangement of the choruses, solos, duetts, trios, and quartettes is admirable and cannot fail to produce a fine effects.

Among the finer pieces to be rendered might be mentioned "Sanctus," by Mrs. Downing, Misses M'Caffrey, Muller, Buerkle and Henne, and the Messrs. Kleber, the trio from Attila, and Bothoven's Leerghette, quartette for string instrument, by the Teorge brothers and Zittebart. Indeed, the whole affair has been most carefully prepared, and the hearty welcome extended by our citizens generally to the societies has incited them to increased exertions to fully meet the anticipations indulged in. Reserved seats can still be secured at Kleber's or Mellor's, Wood street.

POLITICAL.

Grand Rally in Allegheny—Speeches by Messrs. Williams, Lucas, Marshall and Phelps.

The rain of last evening in no wise dampened the loyalty and patriotism of the Republican masses in Allegheny, who rallied in immense numbers in front of their headquarters, in the Diamond, at eight o'clock, to endorse the nomination of Hon. Darwin Phelps, the Republican candidate for Congress in the Twenty-third District. The Germania Brass Band was in attendance, and at intervals, previous to and during the meeting, discoursed enlivening music.

At the appointed hour the meeting was called to order by James McBriar, Esq., who announced the following list of officers:

President—Thomas Williams.

Vice Presidents—S. H. Hartman, S. H. Geyer, Col. George Geist, James Marshall, Samuel Kay, Allen Means, George Beilstein, Henry T. Eggers, Erwin Coates, Jas. C. Servis, J. W. F. White, Col. John Snodgrass, James Lacey, H. M. Boyle, Geo. W. Evans, Hon. John Brown, Geo. W. Chalfant, Dr. T. F. Dale, D. Joseph Reid, Robt. Wright, Archibald Allison, Dr. A. Harper, William McCully, S. G. McCallister, Capt. Nicholas Way, J. F. Marshall, Wm. Peters, Lewis Heidleberg, H. P. Mueller.

Secretaries—Reporters of the Republican press.

Mr. Williams, on taking the chair, returned his thanks in a brief speech, in which he cordially endorsed the nomination of Mr. Phelps as the most proper choice which could have been made, and predicted his triumphant election by the Republicans of the district by an overwhelming majority.

B. F. Lucas and Thomas M. Marshall, Esqs., followed in speeches of about half an hour's length, in which they took up the issues of the day and argued them in a very clear, convincing manner, eliciting by their remarks enthusiastic applause.

At the conclusion of Mr. Marshall's speech, Hon. Darwin Phelps was introduced and received with great cheering. Mr. Phelps said that owing to the inclement state of the evening he thought it best not to make any extended remarks. He felt gratified, as every loyal man would feel, at the reception which had been accorded to him by the Republicans of the banner county. He felt thankful for this great honor, and hoped that if elected by their suffrages to represent them in the hall of the national Legislature he might prove himself worthy of the confidence which they seemed to repose in him. At some future time, if desirable, he would be pleased to address them at length on the issues of the day, but the present, under the circumstances, was hardly the proper time. He said he could not refrain from saying a few words in regard to their gallant standard bearers, Grant and Colfax, and in a few pertinent remarks dwelt upon their characters, their distinguished services to the country, and their unflinching loyalty, closing with an earnest appeal, urging upon all the importance of working energetically to secure their election, that peace and harmony might again prevail throughout the land.

At the conclusion of Mr. Phelps' speech Gen. Wm. Blakely, from the Committee on Resolutions, offered the following:

Resolved, That having the most full and entire confidence in the ability, integrity and patriotism of Hon. Darwin Phelps of Armstrong county, we do most cordially endorse his nomination as the Republican candidate for Congress in this district; and that we will ratify that nomination on the Second Tuesday in October next, in such a manner as to carry terror into the ranks of the enemies of freedom.

Resolved, That we do fully and heartily endorse the public services of Hon. Thomas Williams, our present representative in Congress, in whom we have a representative second to none in the nation, with the courage, honesty and ability to maintain the right, and that when the time shall come for him to surrender the trust committed to his hands he will be entitled to and receive from a grateful constituency the welcome plaudit, "Well done thou good and faithful servant."

Meeting in Washington.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Republicans of the borough of Washington was held in the Court House of that county Saturday evening, to hear Governor Geary. At half-past seven o'clock the Grant Guards, under command of Captain Hart, repaired to the Valentine House, where the Governor was stopping, and escorted him to the Court House. The meeting was then organized by calling Major John H. Ewing to the Chair and appointing Mr. McWilliams, of the Reporter, Secretary.

The Chairman in a brief address introduced the Governor, who addressed the meeting at considerable length in a most eloquent and forcible manner, at the close of which the meeting adjourned with three cheers for the speaker and three times three for Grant and Colfax and the State and local ticket.

The Republicans of Washington county are working nobly, and will render a good account at the approaching election.

Trouble About a Receipt.

Timothy Gorman and his landlord James McCauliff have had a misunderstanding in regard to a receipt. McCauliff says he called on his tenant to collect the rent amounting to eight dollars; a twenty dollar note was offered in payment by Timothy, which he was unable to change, whereupon he dropped into a store near by to get the change, retaining the receipt which had been handed to him. Failing to come back in a reasonable time search was made for him, when it was found that he had gone. Meeting him subsequently, McCauliff says Timothy flourished the receipt in his face and refused to pay him the amount. The accused was arrested yesterday on a charge of false pretence by Alderman McMasters, and after a hearing held for trial.

Horse Case.

On Saturday evening, about nine o'clock, William Hecker, of East Liberty, came into town and having some business at the Mansion house, he tied his horse in front, while he went inside. Coming out soon after the animal was gone, taken as he subsequently ascertained by an acquaintance named Lewis Steven. Thinking all would be right, Hecker went home after waiting some time, expecting that Stevens would bring the animal there when he had finished his ride. Up till morning neither horse nor rider had appeared, and Hecker at last, thinking that something must be wrong, started the police on the track. They have not succeeded in arresting the joker as yet.

THE OIL OPERATOR'S RIDE.

"AFTER REED" AND OIL.

There is a road from Titusville town,
A good plank roadway leading down;
And there, ere the dew had left the moss,
A lineback, spavined livery "hoss"
Was seen to pass with his mane atoss;
For he knew his rider's terrible need,
As he stretched away with the utmost speed.
Hills rose and fell, but his heart was gay,
With Pleasantville nearly five miles away!

The rider's hat was jammed on his head,
His eyes had a stare like those of the dead,
While his proboscis glowed with a beautiful red;
As he gazed on the derricks that loomed up ahead,
The heart of the steed and the heart of the master
Were beating like drumsticks or harder and faster;
As they whirled by meadowland, field and pasture,
Every nerve of this charger was strained to full play,
With Pleasantville only four miles away!

Under his feet the dusty road,
Like the Creek in a "pond freshet" swiftly flowed;
And the natives who saw the vision go by,
Wondering and awe-struck, looked up in the sky,
And adown the road, as they sought to view
The cause of the clatter and hullabaloo;
But the rider so bold and the steed so black,
Were snuffing the gas that lay in their track,
The former smelt benzine, the latter but hay,
In Pleasantville, only one mile away!

The first that this oil man saw was the boots
Of the operators that stood in groups
Upon the corners and hotel stoops;
Talking of leases, interests, wells,
Of benzine, naptha, and crude, that smells;
And everything else that buys or sells;
Then striking the spurs in the ribs of his nag,
He yelled as he drew from his pocket a swag
Of greenbacks, "Who is here to sell
A farm or sixteenth in some flowing well?"

Then such a shout and scrabble began,
'Twas hard to distinguish the horse or the man,
In the crowd that hustled, bustled and ran,
They surrounded and covered him deep with leases;
It seemed they would rend their victim in pieces;
While the perspiration ran down the creases
Of his face, like whey from new cheeses!

Hurrah! hurrah! for Pleasantville town!
Hurrah for the wells that are going down!
And when they are safely tubed and tested,
The seed bag located without being busted;
Then be it said in language bold,
This is where fortunes, not men, are sold,
And those that live on the "Belt" will say
That is the town that saved the day
And Pleasantville is but five miles away!

Wyoming Territory—A Fearful Condition of Affairs.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, writing from Benton City, Wyoming territory, under date of August 12, gives a frightful account of the state of society in that region. He says:

"Our usual routine of business, dances, drunks and rows has been broken by a series of tragedies of an unusual and exciting character.

"While sitting in our tent late on the afternoon of the 8th instant, I heard a shot in the street, and running to the door, saw a man on the opposite side stagger and clutch hold of a post for support, and another just raising his pistol to shoot again, when he was struck from behind and the pistol wrenched from his hand. The wounded man was taken into a woman's tent near, and tended with the greatest kindness by the cyprians, but his wound was mortal, and he died on the morning of the 10th. It seems no provocation whatever had been given for the act, but the criminal was drunk, fancied himself insulted, and killed one of the most popular young men in town. On the afternoon of the 10th I observed a great rush and cry in the street, and looking out saw them dragging the murderer along toward the tent where the dead man lay. The whole population of the city was out at once, and merchants, plainsmen, sports and women mingled in wild throng, for it was generally understood there was to be a hanging at once. The murderer, pale as death and hardly able to stand, held in the firm grasp of two stalwart Vigilants, was dragged through the excited crowd and taken into the tent where the dead man lay, and forced to confront the corpse.

"Meanwhile, the crowd, now swelled to several hundred, became impatient and surrounded the tent, clamoring for immediate action. A sudden cry arose, 'to the telegraph pole; to the telegraph pole.' It was reported that he was to be hanged to the pole, and the crowd rushed away to the railroad track; but another half hour passed, and it was apparent the Vigilants were afraid to act. The proceeding was soon made plain. At that time of the day, when the provost guard camped in town was changed, there was a full hour when only two soldiers were on duty at the guard tent, and there was a private understanding that at this time the citizens could take the prisoner, if desired, without trouble. They did take him, but hesitated to do more, and during the delay the new guard arrived, took the prisoner from the Vigilants, and marched him back to the guard-house, where he still remains. If he has no friends here, which seems to be the case, he will yet be hanged. But if he has friends they will probably buy up his jailers or effect his escape in some manner.

"The excitement thus aroused seems to have created a thirst for blood, and I had scarcely retired to the tent when I heard the most fearful screams, and running to the door saw the proprietor of a saloon opposite, beating his 'woman,' giving her, what the western roughs call a 'mule persuader.' It was a brutal and sickening sight. He held her with his left hand and struck her with his right, till it seemed to me every blow could be heard a hundred yards. He was a large, powerful man, she a light, medium-sized woman, and the blood followed every blow, while her screams chilled my blood. Of a hundred men who witnessed the act, not one interfered or remonstrated with him in any way. At length he released his hold, and struck her a final blow on the nose, which completely flattened that feature, and sent her into the middle of the street, where she lay, with the blood gushing from her face, mingling with the white dust and streaking her clothing with gore. The soldiers arrived in due time, after it was all over, and strangely enough arrested the woman and took her to the guard house, paying no attention to the man. About midnight she returned, and we were awakened by his whipping her again; and about the time he finished two rows took place almost simultaneously in different parts of town, ending with a perfect fusilade of pistol shots, by which nobody was hurt that I can hear of. We slept without disturbance the rest of the night, and woke to find an unusual commotion over a robbery next door.

"The two leading characteristics of the western rough are, a reckless disregard of life and an equal disregard of money, and just now the facilities for getting rid of the latter are unequaled. The big-tent' has been dedicated and is in operation day and night. This structure is a nice frame, one hundred feet long and forty feet wide, covered with canvas and conveniently floored for dancing, to which, and gambling, it is entirely devoted. For want of something better to do I have spent many of my evenings there, studying the shades of western life. As you enter, the right side is lined with a splendid bar, supplied with every variety of liquors and cigars, with cut glass goblets, ice pitchers, splendid mirrors and pictures rival ing those of our eastern cities. At the back end a space large enough for one cotillion is left open for dancing, on a raised platform, a band is in attendance day and night, while all the rest of the room is filled with tables devoted to monte, faro, rondo, coolo, fortune wheels, and every other species of gambling known.

"During the day the 'big tent' is rather quiet, but at night, after a few inspiring tunes at the door by the band, the long hall is soon crowed with a motley throng of three or four hundred miners, ranchmen, clerks, bullwhackers, gamblers and 'cappers.' The brass instruments are laid aside, the string music begins, the cotillions succeed each other rapidly, each ending with a drink, while those not so employed crowd around the tables and enjoy each his favorite game.

"Last night was one of unusual interest, for Blair's little speech had drawn a large crowd, and the tent was full, while from every table arose the musical rattle of the dice, the hum of the wheel, or the eloquent voice of the dealer. Fair women, clothed with richness and taste, in white and airy garments, mingled with the throng, watched the games with deep interest, or laughed and chatted with the players. The wife of the principal gambler—a tall, spirituelle and most innocent looking woman—sat by his side, while their children, two beautiful girls of four and six years, ran about the room playing and shouting with merriment, climbing upon the knees of the gamblers, and embraced in their rude arms."

Extent and Character of the Great Indian Reservation.

The Territory of Wyoming, stretching twenty-eight miles North and South, and four hundred and twenty East and West, contains within its boundaries an area or country almost equal to three such States as Ohio. It is not generally known that, notwithstanding this immense extent of territory is said to be the territorial organization of Wyoming, nevertheless the United States Peace Commissioners have set apart nearly one half by treaty with the Indians for a reservation for them and their children while one of their tribes continue to exist. Yet such is the case. Nearly the whole of the North half of the territory has been set apart as the hunting grounds of the wild Indians. In this half is comprised a portion of the Sweetwater country, known to be full of auriferous quartz; the Wind River Valley; the valleys of the Big Horn Powder River, and the Northern Black Hills, which are the very finest of our agricultural lands. The finest body of pine timber in the West is now growing in the Northeast part of our territory. Instead of flourishing settlements and manufactories which should utilize these munificent bounties of nature, our Government has compassionately put bounds to the onward march of civilization, and given to the heathen the choicest portion of our new territory.—Cheyenne Star, 19th.

A New Nimrod.

A mighty hunter by the name of Casanova recently arrived at Suez on his return from a sporting tour in the savage wilds of Nubia. He traversed the African desert with an escort of three hundred men and ninety-five camels.

This formidable array of men and beasts of burden, however, were not only for protection, nor did they aid the hunter in his chase after the usual manner.

For M. Casanova had no murder in his thought when he pursued his savage game. His aim was to take it alive, and for this purpose his camels were laden with light but strong cages, in which the spoil—not of his bow and spear, nor even of his rifle, but of his nets and traps—was to be confined and transported alive and safely to the seashore.

The dangers as well as the success of his expedition may be imagined from the fact that he brought back with him the almost incredible cargo of thirty-two elephants, eight giraffes, two rhinoceroses, twelve hyenas and four lions, besides many goats, monkeys, gazelles and other "small deer."

The elephants, giraffes and rhinoceroses probably made the trip on foot.

Terrible Scene in a Menagerie—A Lion Attacks Its Tamer.

A terrible accident occurred at the exhibition of Ames' Menagerie, at Madison, Ind., on Wednesday evening, in which Herr Lengel, the famous lion tamer, was seriously wounded, and narrowly escaped instant death. He had nearly completed his usual performance in the lion's cage, and was in the act of firing off his pistol as the finale, when one of the lionesses sprang furiously at him, and tore the flesh in shreds from his arms and legs. The unfortunate man's bones snapped, under the terrible violence, and all the spectators were stricken with fear, expecting to see him killed outright. The employes of the menagerie, however, quickly realized the peril of the situation, and made a furious attack on the lioness with spears and lances. They succeeded, with some difficulty, in beating her off, and in rescuing their comrade, who was immediately placed under treatment, and his wounds dressed. The crowd of spectators were thrown into great confusion during the affair, and many, fearing for their lives, fled from the scene, but fortunately none were injured.

THE Temps of Paris relates the following curious case: "About midnight on Monday, Madame———, residing in the Fourbourg St. Antoine, proceeded to burn a large packet of letters which, if discovered, would have revealed a laison which she carried on for some time. She placed the letters in the grate and then set fire to them. In a short time a loud noise was heard, accompanied by an oath, and a tall, thin man, tumbled out of the chimney, covered from head to foot with soot. Madame——— was terrified and shouted "robber" and "help" at the top of her voice. The man made for the door and sought to escape, but the other lodgers were awake by that time and stopped his egress, continuing to shout "robber, robber." It happened curiously enough that the police were in the next house at the time engaged in pursuit of proof of an adulterous liaison between two persons in an upper story. They found the woman but not the man. The latter, who heard the police coming, escaped up the chimney, and came down through that of his neighbor. The police recognized the man they were in search of. He no doubt intended to return the way he came as soon as he felt sure that the police had retired; but the unexpected burning of the love-letters of Madame——— disturbed his arrangements, and down he fell like an aerolite. The suspected parties were arrested.

THE CATTLE DISEASE has been the subject of another report from the committee sent from Chicago to different points in the West and to Texas. Ample confirmation, it is stated, has been obtained of the fact that the Texas cattle sent North last fall, and grazed and wintered with the native stock, have done well and communicated no disease. The safety with which the Texas cattle shipped in the winter have been handled has put the farmers off their guard, and in consequence, a dangerous traffic has been kept up this summer. The winter trade, it is asserted, is perfectly safe, and can be renewed as soon as the frosts wither the grass on the prairies. The popular theories as to the cause of the disease are widely different. The tick is supposed by many persons to be the real origin of the pestilence; but more careful observers state that, though the tormenting tick is very abundant where the Texas cattle graze, yet sick and dead cattle have been examined without finding a single trace of the insect.

AN IMPORTANT CHANGE will be made on the 1st of October in charges on printed matter sent to California by the overland mails. Printed matter is now charged the same as letter postage. This regulation has caused much vexation and loss to persons who did not understand the law, as matter placed in the mails with newspaper postage was not forwarded. After the 1st of October printed matter will be sent at newspaper rates.

EDUCATIONAL.

THE WESTERN UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA.

Every Parent and Guardian who has a son or ward to educate should know that we have in our city a Chartered Institution, endowed by the State and the generous friends of learning to the amount of $200 000 Preparatory, Commercial, Scientific and Collegiate in character, with a Faculty ten in number, and a course of study equal to that of our best Colleges. The rooms are large and high, and the apparatus and cabinet of a superior kind. The Observatory belonging to it has one of the finest telescopes in the country, is endowed, is in charge of an astronomer of great ability, and is having four new instruments added to it at an expense of $5,000. All the income from endowment and from tuition is expended in supporting the institution. The aim of the Board of Trustees, who are among our most enterprising and benevolent citizens, is to furnish the best advantages to all our youth equal to those enjoyed in any of our cities. The instruction in all the courses of study is thorough, no temporary expedients being resorted to to secure popularity merely. Only Professors of ability and experience are employed.

Catalogues or information may be had by calling at the University Building, corner of ROSS AND DIAMOND STREETS, between 9 and 11 A. M. The next term will commence September 1st.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, MONDAY, August 31, 1868.

The general markets continue dull and devoid of any new or really important characteristics worthy of special notice. We observe that Wheat has taken another turn backward in Chicago, and we would not be surprised to see it go lower than it was previous to the late advance. Unless we are greatly deceived, there is too much of it in the country to be manipulated by any clique or body of cliques in Chicago or any other place, and Wheat, like everything else, will find its level in the course of time.

BUTTER—There is a moderate demand, with a supply ample to meet it; prime to choice packed, 34 to 36.

EGGS—Fresh packed scarce and firm at 18c.

CHEESE—Is reported quiet and unchanged; sales of Western Reserve and Hamburg at 14 to 15c; Factory at 16 to 17c; Goshen at 18 and Sweitzer at 20.

APPLES—The market is very dull and completely glutted; we now quote at $2 to $3,50 per bbl, for common to prime.

SEEDS—Flaxseed is in good demand at $2,25, and but little offering. Timothy Seed is being sold at $3,25 to $3,50. Cloverseed is nominal at $7,50to $8.

SALT—Is dull and unchanged at $1,75 to $1,80 to the trade, and $2 for small lots in store.

GRAIN—Wheat is steady and unchanged; the mills continue to take all the Winter that offers at $2,10 to $2,15 for Red, and 3 to 5c higher for White. Oats in good supply and a little dull but unchanged at 60 to 61c, on track, and 63 to 65c for small lots in store. Corn is quiet but steady, with sales of prime Yellow reported at $1,12. Rye is quoted at $1,35 to $1,40, with little or none offering. Barley, in the absence of sales, is quotable at $1,85 to $1,90 for No. 1 Spring.

HAY—Baled Hay is scarce and firm at $25 to $30, as to quality.

POTATOES—Scarce and firm at $3,50 to $3,75. Jersey Sweets, $6,50 to $7.

LARD OIL—Unchanged at $1,20 for No. 2, and $1,50 for No. 1.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet but steady, with regular sales at 14 to 14¼c for Shoulders; 16¼ to 16¾c for Ribbed, and 18¼ to 18¾c for Clear Sides, and 22 to 22½c for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is still quoted at 19½c to 20c for prime kettle rendered. Mess Pork, $30,50 to $31.

MILL FEED—The mill prices are unchanged, as follows: Screenings $1; Bran 1,10; Shipstuffs $1,30; and Middlings, $2,20.

FLOUR—There is no improvement to note in the demand, and market is quiet and unchanged. The "Pearl and City Mills" continue to quote at $11,30 for White Wheat in barrels, and $11 in sacks; and Red Wheat at $10,80 in barrels, and 10,50 in sacks. Spring Wheat Flour, 10,50 to $10,75 for old, and $10 to $10,25 for new. Rye Flour, $9,25, for old.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTBURGH GAZETTEE, MONDAY, August 31, 1868.

CRUDE.

The Crude market appears to recovered from the excitement which prevailed on Saturday, and relaxed back to about where it was on Friday. We heard it rumored that there had been a sale of spot oil at 11¾ though there were but few buyers at anything over 11½. Sale 1,000 to be delivered between January and June, 1869, sellers option, at 10; 1,500 for remainder 1868, sellers option, at 11; and 3,000 bbls at $4,50 delivered on cars at Oil City. This last sale shows a decline of 25 cents, compared with Saturday evening, when holders were asking $4,75,

REFINED.

The market for Refined was alse exceedingly quiet, not a single transaction of consequence reported. Spot oil, which on Saturday sold at 31½ to 32c, was quoted nominally to-day at 30½ to 31c; September at 31 31¼c, and October was offered at 31¼c. The market was entirely devoid of the excitement which prevailed on Saturday, and the fears entertained in regard to a "corner" appear to have entirely vanished. The oil is in rather better demand, and we can report sales of standard white at 28c.

[Since the above was put in type, we have the following additional sales reported: 1,000 bbls crude for September at 11¾; 1,000 bbls first half September at $1,45, at Oil City; and 500 for immediate delivery at the figure. Refined—sale of 1,000 bbls on spot at 30½.

RIVER NEWS.

—The Mobile Register says: "Bestor Coleman, clerk of the Prairie State, left Mobile last Saturday, apparently in perfect health. On Sunday evening he was put off at a landing near his residence, not far from Mt. Sterling, in Choctow county, and on the Tuesday following he breathed his last. Mr. Coleman was much esteemed by all who knew him. He leaves a young and interesting family to deplore his untimely loss.

—A St. Louis dispatch says: The Belle Memphis has made an experimental trip to Memphis, after adopting the restaurant system far feeding passengers. The result is very satisfactory for passengers. The cost to passengers is seven dollars, instead of fifteen as formerly; and what they paid for eating amounted to four dollars for each passenger, thus saving four dollars by the plan. And the boat itself saves three hundred dollars.

—We clip the following from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Saturday: A few days since several gentlemen, while discussing steamboat matters, wagered some $200, one party claiming that the great Louisville and New Orleans packet Eclipse, Capt. Sturgeon, carried fifty-five men. The matter was referred to us, when we addressed Capt. Erwin, Louisville, on the subject, receiving the following answer: Yours of the 24th inst., to hand. The steamer Eclipse carried three watches of firemen, of nine men on a watch, and they assisted in loading and unloading the boat. The last season Capt. Sturgeon run her, they only carried two watches, of twelve men each, exclusively to fire. This information I get from Capt. Sturgeon and Mr. O. L. Smith his clerk. I have seen a letter to Capt. Sturgeon on the same subject. This will answer both.

—We have received the following details in regard to the recent trip of the Leni Leoti from Fort Benton to St. Louis: From Camp Cook to Fort Stevens she had on board fifty horses for the Government. Among a miscellaneous and not very heavy cargo, we might mention 300 cases boots and shoes and seven tons of quartz, the latter to be shipped to New York. We published the letter written by Captain Haney, which gave a description of his finding and burying seven dead bodies at a wood-yard, forty-five miles above Fort Peck. The Captain says the men had probably been dead for nearly a month, and he was compelled to bury them near by, where they were found. The two men named Dowdall, had kept a wood-yard on the bend of the river some ten miles below where the others had their shanty. In going up he found the bodies of three Assinaboine Indians near the shanty occupied by the Dowdalls, and the shanty deserted. His theory is, that these two men having been attacked, had killed the Indians, and then for safety had escaped across the river to join the other parties above, where all had been attacked and massacred together. It was undoubtedly the work of the Assinaboine tribe. The Captain says that no treaties will ever prevent this tribe or the Sioux from murdering the white people whenever the opportunity offers, and that the utter defeat and rout of the yellow thieves is the only course to pursue to protect tho lives of white people there. The Leoti passed the following boats on her home trip: The Success at Camp Cook; the Bertha at Doniphan's Rapids, where she was compelled to lighten her cargo in order to get over; the Lacon below the mouth of Milk river; the Hiram Wood, which was lying at the wreck of the Amelia Poe, some twenty miles below Milk river, taking out her freight; the Only Chance at Fort Copelan; the Urilda at Fort Galpin; the North Alabama at Bufort; the Fanny Barker at Mountaineer Bend, near Fort Rice. These are all the mountain boats still up the river.

GOLD closed in New York yesterday at 144⅛@144¾.

WE have found out what the Democracy mean by the "Radical extravagance" which they harp upon so much. It means the fat contracts which the Copperheads had at home during the war while the Republicans were being killed in battle. See Post of yesterday.

WHEN a Democrat is so indiscreet as to brag of the "fat mule contracts" he secured during the war by remaining at home while the Republicans were being killed in battle, the shrewd leaders like WALLACE will conclude that, fat as the mule contracts may have been, they did not exhaust the stock.

THE SECOND Democratic Rebellion is reported to have broken out, at last, in Arkansas, where three counties are said to be in a state of insurrection. The Democracy of Pennsylvania begin to dream of more fat contracts at home, while the Union men of the South are butchered by their friends.

WHEN any fighting is going on, the Copperheads are not at the front. They are plundering in the rear. That is the thing they want another rebellion for. They would see the Union shivered into anarchy and ruin, if they could only get a few fat contracts for army supplies. See Post of yesterday.

WE HAVE it confessed by the Democracy that they did no fighting during the war, preferring to remain at home and go in for the plunder. All the blood shed by the Copperheads then or since was an occasional murder, like that of poor CASEY, their victim in Clearfield. See Post of yesterday, and the sworn testimony before the last Legislature.

VERMONT chooses State officers and three Congressmen to-day. She gave PAGE, for Governor, 31,604 Republican votes last year, against 11,510 for the Democratic candidates. She will do better now, and re-elect three Congressmen by increased majorities. Their majorities in '66 were 7,532 in the first district, 6,909 in the second and 2,936 in the third.

DURING the four years of the war, while its battle-fields rang with the rebel yell and the rebel musketry directed against the Union men, who were fighting for the flag, the Northern Copperheads were engaged in the rear, robbing the dead, pillaging the camp and bushwhacking the stragglers. This is confessed by the Pittsburgh Post, which yesterday boasted that "the Democrats remained at home during the war, getting the fat contracts while the Republicans were being killed in the army."

THAT eminent Northern Democrat, Ex-Senator PUGH, of Ohio, in a speech made, on the 22d, at a harvest-home festival near Cincinnati, thus referred to the loyal reconstruction of the Southern States:

> Now, I am not a war man; I am at an age when I could not be conscripted into the militia. Therefore, I am not anxious for any war; but I tell you this, gentlemen, that there shall be no peace until these outrages are all set aside, and it shall make no difference whether it is in this election or in any other election. If they want me to go farther as to myself, I will say that these outrages are so great, their offence is so rank and stink to Heaven, if I could not find means of beating them peaceably, I would beat them in any manner possible. [Great applause.]

This is the same old Democratic story: it reiterates, "we must beat the Union party by any means in our power, no matter at what cost to the people." It won't win this time!

SECOND WARD, ALLEGHENY.

Let every friend of GRANT and COLFAX who is a voter in the Second ward, Allegheny city, attend the special election to-day and elect ALFRED SLACK to the Council. He is the regular Union nominee, a well known and respected citizen and will make a good Councilman. Give him every vote!

HON. JOHN SHERMAN.

This distinguished Senator will speak on Monday, September 7th, either in Pittsburgh or Allegheny City, as may hereafter be determined; at some point hereafter to be fixed in the Twenty-first District, on the 8th; at Philadelphia on the 9th; at Easton on the 10th, and at Harrisburg on the 11th. At all these points he will have very large audiences. We reprint this announcement, correcting an error as it first appeared.

GOV. JOHN W. GEARY.

Our illustrious Governor arrived in the city last night to participate in the Sängerfest occasion. He will remain in town to address his fellow citizens on the political issues of the campaign, at North Common, Allegheny city, to-night. Few orators are more brilliant than Governor Geary. His words come from an honest heart and generous soul, and he should be greeted with such an assemblage as will bid him carry words of cheer to our friends east of the mountains. Let every Republican attend to swell up the throng!

THE NEW DEMOCRATIC GARROTE.

The Post says that while the Union men are killed in the army, the Democracy stay at home and enrich themselves with contracts. This kind of robbery is called, in police phrase, the "garrote." It is not BEAUREGARD'S garrote, for what that eminent Democrat suggested was merely that the Union prisoners should be strangled to death. The Post's garrote kills and robs the victim in another way, the Southern Democrat holding him level with a musket, while the Pennsylvania Democrat rifles his pockets. Congenial employment for Northern Copperheads, while any fighting is going on!

DON'T FORGET IT!

Our Democratic neighbor of the Post boasts that its party has plenty of money to expend this year in campaign purposes. It said yesterday morning:

> There is no trouble about the money this year with the Democrats, there is slashins of it—and why not? The Democrats staid at home during the war, and got the mule and other fat contracts, whilst the Republicans were getting killed in the army. That's what's the matter.

This is a handsome confession! It admits all that the friends of the Union have ever charged against Copperheadism. Let it be known to the people everywhere! "THE DEMOCRATS STAID AT HOME during the war, to get contracts, whilst the Republicans were getting killed in the army," the Pittsburgh Post exultingly cries, and the Democratic profits are to be expended to hoodwink the people into suffering the inauguration of more wars, with more contracts for stay-at-home-Democrats, and more Republicans to be slain in fighting for the flag! Put that paragraph, from the Pittsburgh Post, of August 30, 1868, in your pocket, reader; refer to it occasionally, when you can find a Democratic "soldier" to talk to, and ask him how that kind of Democratic loyalty suits him.

THE COPPERHEAD DEMOCRACY.

Said EBEN F. PILLSBURY, Democratic candidate for Governor of Maine, in March, 1868:

> It is useless to talk longer about preserving the free government of our fathers, for it has already become a mass of ruins and has virtually ceased to exist. American freedom has been wrecked during the brief period that the apostates to liberty (i. e., President Lincoln and his advisers,) have had control. * * * The great question for the future is whether there is sufficient wisdom, patriotism and statesmanship left in the country to rebuild the Temple of Liberty, to drive out the architects of ruin and reconstruct a free Government.

When President LINCOLN called for three hundred thousand men, in October, 1863, PILLSBURY wrote: "Let those who believe in the policy redeem their pledges and answer this call for more men." He referred to the draft as a "policy resorted to only by Democratic Governments," and said of the people in regard to it, "Their patience is about worn out." Of ABRAHAM LINCOLN he said:

> Alas! that Lincoln had not been consigned to infamy and forgetfulness before he succeeded in drenching the land in blood and converting our free Government into a military despotism.

He supports SEYMOUR now, as SEYMOUR supported him then; and these two men, with VALLANDIGHAM and PENDLETON, whose boasts that they voted to give neither a dollar nor a man to the country, are reiterated by the Pittsburgh Post of yesterday, are to-day the representatives of the Northern Democratic party, as FORREST, BEN. HILL, COBB and HAMPTON are the leaders of the Southern wing.

THE role of partizan politician at home, which one CAMPBELL, of Ohio, his predecessor in the Mexican Mission, played for a twelve-month to the disgust of the country, is taken up, in regular course, by the new Minister, Gen. ROSECRANS. The prevalence of fever on the Mexican Coast is his plausible excuse for not repairing to the post for which the Senate confirmed him, and he remains at home, dabbling in politics in the interest of SEYMOUR and BLAIR. His late conference with a dozen rebel Generals at the Virginia Springs has not been marked, it is hoped, by the same unpleasant habit which the Democracy accused him of during the war, viz.: that of leaving his artillery in the possession of the enemy. It is understood that he brought away at least one gun, which is soon to be heard as a political manifesto against GRANT and the "abominable Radicals" of the South.

MR. WINSLOW S. PIERCE, of Indianapolis, a brother-in-law of Senator HENDRICKS, and a delegate to the New York Democratic Convention, has abandoned SEYMOUR and BLAIR. He is the writer of an inside history of that Convention, which Eastern journals erroneously credit to WINSLOW S. LEWIS. A note is before us from a friend whose statements may be relied on saying that "Dr. PIERCE wrote that history in my (his) room and left it with me. He will never touch SEYMOUR."

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

NOTES, CRITICAL, EXPLANATORY AND PRACTICAL ON THE BOOK OF PSALMS. By Albert Barnes, Author of "Notes on the New Testament," "Lectures on the Evidences of Christianity," etc. In three volumes. Vol. I. Published by Harper & Brothers, New York. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

It is not surprising that half a million of volumes of Mr. Barnes' Commentary on the New Testament have been sold in this country, and perhaps more than that number in foreign languages, as the work is exceedingly popular, on account of its clear and satisfactory explanations of the sacred text. For this reason especially, his works have been a favorite with teachers in the Sabbath Schools. The same valuable features appear in these Notes on the Psalms, short and concise. The venerable author has avoided the objectionable course of some Commentators, and has sought to simplify his explanations without the parade of learning, which has frequently confused the student, stead of explaining the Scriptures. These "Notes" are eminently practical, and will be found a useful help to a better understanding of the Psalms. The introductory notes, covering forty pages, are valuable and instructive. The author has spent forty years in this delightful work, in connection with his ministerial duties, twelve of which were devoted to the preparation of the Psalms, and all performed in the early hours of the morning. Considering the difficulties under which the work was prosecuted, by the partial loss of night, it is marvellous indeed that he has succeeded in his object. The work deserves a wide sale.

LIBRARY EDITION OF THE WORKS OF CHAS. DICKENS, Published by D. Appleton & Co., New York. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

The second volume of this elegant edition is just out, containing "Nicholas Nickelby," "Martin Chuzzlewit," and "American Notes." It will be completed, as previously stated, in six volumes. In noticing the first volume we spoke of its excellencies, as we thought, in favorable terms. Following after the numerous editions, by different publishers of the great novelist's works, it certainly eclipses most of them, and is especially desirable for Library purposes, from the fact that the series comprises but six volumes, and it is so handsomely gotten up and withal so cheap. Beautiful and showy in appearance, convenient and compact in size, well printed on white paper in double columns, and tastily illustrated by Cruikshank, Leech and Browne, the edition cannot fail to be popular.

JOHN WARD'S GOVERNESS. A Novel. By Annie L. MacGregor. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. For sale by Robert S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

The title is suggestive of a love story, and such it is, and one, too, charmingly told by the fair author. It presents the history of the marriage of a wealthy young man, of an old aristocratic family, to a beautiful Italian actress, who, after a few brief years deserted him in a foreign land, leaving him the rich legacy of two beautiful children, who were placed in charge of a handsome governess. Very soon Ward becomes charmed with this young lady, and finally tendered her his heart and hand. After they were married it was discovered that she was the daughter of a wealthy merchant, who had died poor, and was well known to her husband's family. The story is woven together in fine language, and is quite readable. The work is dedicated to Dr. O. W. Holmes, the distinguished poet and author.

THE MOONSTONE. A Novel. By Wilkie Collins, author of "The Woman in White," "Armadale," "No Name," etc. With many illustrations. Published by Harper and Brothers, New York. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

While this charming story was appearing in Harper's Weekly, it excited thrilling interest. The reputation of Wilkie Collins has already been made by "The Woman in White," and other works of fiction, "Moonstone, however, will increase his popularity as a writer. He has learned the art of story-telling, which few of the writers of the present day have obtained to the same degree of perfection. The numerous and elegant illustrations, too, present the salient features of the story so prominently that the reader has a panoramic view of the plot from the illustrations alone.

LIFE AND PUBLIC SERVICES OF GENERAL ULLYSSES S. GRANT AND SKETCH OF HON. SCHUYLER COLFAX. By Charles A. Phelps. Published by Lee & Shepard, Boston. For sale by Robert S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

It is to be expected that a person so distinguished and meritorious as Gen. Grant, and likely to be elevated to the Presidency, would be a good subject for book writers. Among the numerous biographical works of the Great Captain, this volume possesses excellencies superior to some, which commends it to the public. It is concise, well-prepared and not fulsome, and though gotten up for campaign purposes, as the "People's Edition," it is worthy for the library as an excellent history for reference, of this extraordinary military chieftain. The author, Charles A. Phelps, late Speaker of the Massachusetts House of Representatives, and President of the Massachusetts Senate, has performed his work well. The brief sketch of Mr. Colfax is quite readable, and honorable to that distinguished civilian.

PAUL CLIFFORD. By Sir Edward Bulwe Lytton, Bart. Complete in one volumer Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. For sale by R. S. Davis, 93 Wood street, Pittsburgh.

This is one of the earliest creations of Bulwer. It is full of exciting incidents, and the characters are sketched with signal ability. Each character stands out in bold relief, and such as Sir William Brandon and his charming daughter Lucy, and Augustus Tomlinson pre-eminently so. The plot is adroitly presented, which gives the story a charm that excites the reader from the beginning to the close. This volume is one of the "Globe Edition—an edition which is beautifully gotten up, compact, neat and low-priced.

THE HERMITS. By Rev. Charles Kingsley. Published by J. B. Lippincott & Co., Philadelphia. For sale by Robert S. Davis, Pittsburgh.

Society would be sadly disorganized if monastic life, in any form, prevailed extensively, however commendable it may appear to some. The history of a class of men, who fled to caves and dens of earth, to escape from the follies and sins of men, however uncertain the dim and misty chronicles of their lives, are replete with interest, and furnish much food for thought. Mr. Kingsley however exposes the gross superstition which induced many of them to choose this manner of life. And even these hermits failed by their austerities to accomplish what they sincerely desired, the good of their fellow men. The book is quite readable and will be prized by the curious and thoughtful. It forms the second volume of the Sunday Library for Household reading.

GOETHE ANE SCHILLER A Historical Romance. By L. Muhlbach, author of Joseph II. and his Court," "The Empress Josephine," etc., etc. Translated from the German, by Chapman Coleman. Published by D. Appleton & Co., New York. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

There is a charm about the Muibach series, which has made them exceedingly popular. History is presented in the form of romance, and the reader obtains a truer knowledge of men and things, and the workings of private life in Germany, than are found in historical works, or in memoirs. The author has woven the materials bearing upon these two central characters, Goethe and Schiller, in a charming style, setting forth the salient characteristics of these "priests of poetry" with great fidelity. The habits and times in which these characters lived are shown to be not up to the standard of the present day. The volume gives an excellent idea of society in those days. The work is hand-

LORING'S TALES OF THE DAY. Published by Loring, Boston. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

The two latest issues of this series are entitled "Lucy; or Married from Pride," and "Medusa and other Tales." The former is said to be a story of real life, and there is an avoidance of whatever verges on improbability. It is quite readable. "Medusa," by Adelaide Kemble, the author of "A Week in a French Country-house," is likely to have equal merit with the latter work, which has already a fourth edition.

THE MONASTERY. Published by D. Appleton & Co., New York. For sale by Henry Miner, Pittsburgh.

This bright covered edition of the Waverly Novels is, as might be expected, popular and saleable. It is neat and cheap—only 25 cents per volume.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

Harper & Brothers, New York, will soon issue the second volume of the Theological Dictionary, edited by Drs. McClintock and Strong—a work of great merit.

Mr. Henry Miner, of this city, is bringing out his well known Almanac, for 1869. It will be brimful of information, besides the usual matter pertaining to such publications. It will also contain a cut representing the great eclipse next Summer.

POLITICAL ITEMS.

JUDGE WOODWARD addressed a Democratic meeting in Montrose a few evenings since, and after he had concluded two young soldiers, who had previously intended to vote for Seymour, declared they would vote for Grant and Colfax.

THE Hon. Dave Gooding, chief butler and confidential bottle-holder to his Circleswingstry, is the only Johnston-Seymour-Blair-Wade Hampton-Gen. Forrest-Greenwallback-Gold street Pendleto-Bondonian submissionist of any note in Indiana.

ALL the Democratic campaign documents omit Frank Blair's Broadhead letter, and in many of the States that give large Republican majorities the Democratic State Committee decline to publish his letter accepting the nomination of the Vice Presidency.

GEN. A. M. BARNEY, one of the most prominent and influential Democrats of St. Lawrence county, finding his loyalty stronger than his love for party, has repudiated "Repudiation," and its Copperhead abetters, and announced his determination to vote for Grant and Colfax.

THE letter of Mr Seymour, says the Springfield Republican, is worthy of his reputation for plausible falsehood, in which he excels most of his party. There is hardly enough truth and candor in it to serve for a seasoning to the elaborately prepared dish of calumny, insinuation, and direct misstatement with which he regales his followers.

JAMES T. SHEDEER, of Bedford county, Pa., a veteran soldier, having seen his name announced as one of the officers of a Democratic meeting, publishes a card, saying, "I was hitherto a Republican, and think "the wind blows" that way yet. If I have changed my politics, I have yet to find it out, and expect to vote as I shot, for the Union."

IN the face of the explicit statement of Mr. Henry Mack, of the firm of Mack Brothers, that General Grant disregarded the recommendation from his own father for "special favors" in cotton operations, the World calls Grant "a drunkard, a butcher, and a cotton speculator." The World evidently believes in the value of lying, as capital for its party.

SOUTHERN letters intimate that the Rebel Democracy of the Gulf States intend, after the re-assembling of Congress, to make an open issue of the right of the excluded States to vote at the approaching Presidential election. They await only a hint from the President to hold separate elections for white voters, at which they will choose Rebel electors to vote for Seymour and Blair.

THE Wheeling Intelligencer announces that John Hall, Esq., of Mason county President of the Constitutional Convention of West Virginia, in 1861, and a delegate to the New York Convention, has experienced a thorough conversion since the nomination of Seymour. Mr. Hall gives the Republican State and Congressional ticket his hearty support and the benefit of his extensive influence.

WHEN the Democratic party, in 1861, went out of power, its only bequest to its successors was a civil war, an empty treasury, a skeleton army and a scattered navy. Its only tangible pledge, in the event of restoration to power, is another civil war, to nullify the laws, re-establish Slavery, and make Cabinet Ministers Governors and Senators of the rebels who devoted four years to robbery, rapine and murder.

MAJ. JONATHAN N. GORDON, for many years a prominent lawyer of Indianapolis, made an able and somewhat lengthy speech in Masonic Hall, of that city, the other night, in favor of Grant and Colfax. He has acted with the Democratic party for the past few years, but is now earnestly and enthusiastically at work for the Republican candidates, both State and national. He was listened to with profound attention by one of the largest audiences that ever assembled in that hall. He was frequently cheered.

THE N. Y. Tribune says: Friends, North and South, East and West, do not distrust New York! She never failed you yet at a critical moment except in '62, when at least Fifty Thousand of her noblest voters were carrying muskets in Dixie or sleeping beneath its turf. The casualties of war have seriously cut down our majority, but have not destroyed it. You will have to work very hard and to very good purpose to do better in your several States than the Empire State will do for Grant, Colfax and a loyal Peace!

SAID that eminent Democrat, Vallandigham, in Congress, in 1861: "Then, sir, I am not a Southern man either, ALTHOUGH IN THIS MOST UNHOLY AND UNCONSTITUTIONAL CRUSADE AGAINST THE SOUTH, in the midst of the INSURRECTION AND MURDER TO WHICH SHE HAS BEEN SUBJECT, and with which she is still threatened—with the TORCH OF THE INCENDIARY AND THE DAGGER OF THE ASSASSIN SUSPENDED OVER HER—MY MOST CORDIAL SYMPATHIES ARE WITH HER."

WADE HAMPTON, last July, touched the Democratic key-note in New York, when he said:

"We can have no relief unless the Democratic party will come out and pledge itself that the white people of the South shall vote. I want you all to register an oath that when they do vote their vote shall be counted, and if there is a majority of white votes, that you will place Seymour and Blair in the White House, in spite of all the bayonets that shall be brought against them."

The New York Advertiser says: It certainly now looks as if General Grant would carry every Northern State, including even New Jersey. Having become the Botany Bay for ex-rebels, Kentucky will, of course, vote as Breckinridge, Forrest and Falstaff Marshall fought. The returning Confederates have likewise secured such a firm grasp on the throat of Maryland that she, too, can hardly be expected to throw them off. As for Delaware, it matters very little which way she goes. Proceeding further South, Grant will, without much doubt, carry Tennessee, North and South Carolina, Alabama, Louisiana and Florida, while their supporters in Georgia assure us that her electoral vote will be cast for them. Let us have peace.

—A Cheyenne dispatch to the St. Louis Republican says six hundred Sioux Indians on the war path crossed the railroad near Fort Sanders on Friday. Wood choppers were attacked six miles from Fort Sanders, on Friday, and one Indian killed. Red Cloud's Indians are moving down in force from the North. Three men were killed and two hundred head of stock run off on the Big Thompson on the 27th. An Indian war is generally looked for. Volunteers are to be raised at Cheyenne.

—The advertising of a picnic to be held to-day at Ottowa, Canada, for the benefit of Whelan and others, charged with being implicated in the assassination of D'Arcy McGee, created considerable excitement, and the authorities determined to prevent the demonstration.

—It is said there is a prospect of an early resumption of work in the iron factories at South Troy, as the result of a mutual accommodating spirit on the part of the proprietors and the workmen, who have been on a strike for several months.

—On Saturday last James Donahue beat his wife to insensibility and then laid her on the track of the Germantown railroad, but she was rescued by a person who happened to discover her situation. The brute of a husband has been arrested.

—The Maryland Republican State Central Committee met in Baltimore on Friday, and resolved to make full nominations and a vigorous canvass, also to hold a grand ratification meeting in Monument Square in Baltimore early in September.

IS YOUR DISEASE RHEUMATISM?

Many persons, supposing they are suffering from this disease, have applied Liniments, Plasters and other Rheumatic Remedies without obtaining any relief, when in fact the cause of pain is a derangement of the Kidneys. PHYSICAL EXHAUSTION.

Worn out with the burning heats of Summer, the human system requires to be reinforced and regenerated at this season. Strength has literally been steaming out of it under a temperature that necessarily produces exhaustion. Fall is the season of remittent and intermittent fevers, and the weak and enervated are always their first victims. Now, therefore, is the time for invigoration. Those who have neglected to tone and regulate the digestive and secretive organs during the months of June and July, can no longer continue to do so without imminent peril to health and life. Commence a course of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS without delay. Of all renovating, strength-sustaining preparations this is the most wholesome and the most potent. It does not unduly excite the most sensitive organization. Its mission is to preserve, regulate and restore. The tonic, anti-bilious and aperient vegetable elements which it contains are associated in the exact proportions necessary to put the whole physique into perfect working order. The purity of all its ingredients is guaranteed. It rouses the languid appetite, gives unwonted energy to the digestion, calms and braces the nerves, and replaces lassitude and depression with energy and cheerfulness; besides being agreeable to the palate and free from all the objections urged against the adulterated stimulants and tonics, of which it is designed to supply the place.

CHRONIC DISEASES OF THE EAR.

In observations and notes taken by Dr. KEYSER, of this city, on the various diseases of the ear, he says that nine out of ten cases could be cured in their incipiency if application were made to some responsible and competent aural surgeon. The Doctor quotes from the opinion of Wilde, a well known aural surgeon, who says: "I fear not to reiterate the assertion which I made on several former occasions, that if the disease of the ear were as well studied or understood by the generality of practitioners, and as early attended to as those of the eye, it would be found that they were just as much within the pale of scientific treatment. * * Deafness is so common and so distressing an infirmity, and when of long standing so incurable, that we cannot too strongly urge all medical practitioners to make themselves familiar with the treatment of the diseases of the ear."

The Doctor says that nearly all annoying Discharges, Buzzings and Morbid Growths peculiar to the organ of the hearing, some of which had lingered through a score or two of years, can be cured or ameliorated by proper treatment.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, August 31, 1868.

The local money market is quiet and unchanged; general business continues dull, though we are in hopes that an improvement is near at hand. The crops have already commenced to move, but there is a feeling of doubt and uncertainty in regard to future values which tends very much to retard trade at present.

—The stock of Flour and Grain in Chicago on the 22d inst., was large, much larger than at the same time last year. For instance there were 58,794 bbls Flour against only 2,120 same time last year. Here is the comparison, as clipped from a Chicago paper:

ALLEGHENY CATTLE MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE,
MONDAY, August 31, 1868.

CATTLE.

There was again a very full supply of cattle to-day, and the market upon the whole was a dull one, and a general thing prices ruled lower. As has been the case for some weeks past, prime fat cattle such as first class butchers are in the habit of buying, were in light supply, and holders of this grade of stock experienced no difficulty in selling and that, too, at full prices. On the other hand the pens were full and overflowing with old cows, little thin heifers and steers, and rough oxen and stags; and for these holders, as a general thing, were obliged to take whatever they could get; second and third class butchers found no difficulty in suiting themselves at very low figures, as holders of this class of stock were only too glad to get clear of their cattle at some price or other.

Prime fat cattle, as will be seen by reference to report of sales, sold at from 7¼ to 7½ and extra at 7¾. Medium butchers stock sold at from 6½ to 7 and fairish do at 6 to 6¼. Stock cattle may ba quoted at 4 to 5¼ as to quality and condition, and bulls at 2¾ to 3½. If Peter Klemen had have been on hand to-day he could have picked up a few of these animals, cheap.

The great proportion of the cattle on sale to-day were from Pennsylvania and Ohio, with some few droves from States farther West. It is really astonishing to witness the large number of cattle that is being sent in from adjoing counties in the Western part of the State. Washington, Butler, Lawrence, Green and Mereer Counties are said to be filled with cattle. This week we had a drove from Crawford County, and that county is also reported full. The impression still prevails among dealers that prices are yet too high, and a still further decline is expected.

Verner sold 21 head of fair to good cattle at 6 to 6¼, and 21 head of mixed Tuscarawas Co. stock for another party, at 3¼ to 5.

Davis & McAllister sold 22 head of common stock steers at an average of 4¼; and 20 head of mixed stock, for Carlisle, at 3½ to 5.

W L Scott sold 20 head of Western Reserve cows and heifers at 4 to 5.

Greenwald & Kahn sold 56 head Ohio stock at 5¼ to 7¾; 17 head Butler Co. stock for Emmell & Co—not sold.

Hedges & Taylor sold 103 head in different lots, all on commission, at 5 to 6½.

Hazlewood & Blackstock sold 43 head Belmont Co. Ohio steers, for Shoemaker at 5 to 6½; 20 for Shepard at 4½ to 6¼; 23 for another party, and 5 on their own account at 5 to 6½.

Holmes, Lafferty & Co. sold 66 head mixed stock, at 3 to 6:

Nicholas Carr sold 25 head Ohio cattle, on commission, at 5 to 6¼.

James Hanlen sold 15 head Washington Co. heifers and steers at 4¾ to 6½.

L & J Shamberg 29 head of good to prime butchers stock at 6 to 7½.

Trauerman & Lobman 62 head mixed Washington Co. stock at 4¼ to 6⅝.

E Katz sold 21 head of Tuscarawas Co. (Ohio) scalawags at 2 to 4; and 19 head of fair to good heifers and steers at 5 to 6.

S Marks & Bro report 61 head Ohio stock at 5 to 6¾.

L Rothchilds 36 head Penna. stock at 6 to 7.

Haas & Kraus 65 head Ohio stock at 5¼ to 7½.

Myers & Needy 66 head Penna. and Ohio stock at 5 to 7.

Jacob Rothchilds had 42 head of Crawford Co. cattle on sale for H Bates; sold 22 head at 4 to 5¼.

Keefer sold 25 head Washington Co. steers, and heifers at 4 to 5.

Jas. McAllister reports 37 head of commonish stock cattle at 3½ to 4⅝.

Stakely & Bro. had 34 head of Butler Co. stock on sale.

SHEEP AND LAMBS.

There was also a full supply of Sheep on sale to-day, but, as in the case of Cattle, the great proportion were of an inferior grade and were not fit for butchering. This being the case, prime fat sheep were in demand and sold readily at full prices, while "scalawags" moved very slowly and only at very low prices. The fact is, there is an over supply of this class of Sheep all over the country, and farmers seem determined to get rid of them at some price in order to avoid the cost and trouble of keeping them over winter. It is evident that there is a disposition among farmers to sell off the "scalawags" and keep their best Sheep, in hopes that better prices will prevail after a while; and, besides, it costs as much to keep "scalawags" as it does to keep good Sheep, and the former will always bring relatively better prices than the latter.

Jacob Rothchilds sold 69 head Lambs at $1 to $1,50 per head.

Emmell, Fowler & Walters report having sold 340 head Sheep and Lambs at from 50c to $3,50 per head.

J. Young sold 100 head of stock Sheep at 50c per head.

Adam Eckert had 126; C. Beeler, 133; Stakely & Bro., 400 Sheep and Lambs, and Garwin & Co., 460—we did not get their prices.

Flinner & Sheitemantle 200 head Sheep at $1 to $4,25.

Geo. Clark sold 50 head Sheep at 3½; 17 at $2¾; 10 Lambs at $1,33, and was offered $1,50 for the balance, 37.

N. Folland reports 128 at $3,50 per head for Sheep, and $2 for Lambs.

C. Maggi sold 79 Sheep for Davis at $1 to $2,25, and 35 Lambs at 85c to $1,25.

J. R. Pringle sold 127 head at $1 to $1,50 for Lambs, and $1,50 to $2,75 for Sheep.

H. Bates had 221 head Crawford county Sheep; sold 50 head at $2,25.

McCaslin 180 at $1 to $3,50 for Sheep, and 50 to $2 for Lambs.

Seymour sold 20 Lambs at $1,50.

Traurman & Lobman sold 22 head prime Washington county Sheep at $4⅞.

HOGS.

The retail demand is improving somewhat, as the season advances, but butchers cannot be expected to invest largely in Hogs at from 10 to 11c, gross, when they can buy Sheep at 3½ to 4½, and Cattle at 5½ to 7½. We look, however, for prices to come down considerably within the next few weeks.

FARM, GARDEN AND HOUSEHOLD.

Brief Hints for the Season.

Weeds in pastures are apt to be neglected at this season, and not only present a disagreeable appearance to the eye of the neat farmer, but ripen and scatter seeds to the detriment of many future crops. If they grow in thick patches, cut them down with a mowing machine, but scattered mullen, bull thistles, &c., may be cut up singly with a sharp grub hoe.

Weeds in corn, potatoes, and other hoed crops, frequently spring up in considerable numbers as a sort of second growth after the fields have been kept clean up to the present time. It is very important, and will save much future weeding to destroy these weeds while they are yet green and soft, and have not formed seeds. Many sorts will bear a thousand seeds on a single plant, and if a tenth part of these grow, they will make a hundred the first year, ten thousand the second, a million the third, a hundred million the fourth, and ten thousand million the fifth—which will be enough to cover a thousand acre farm with twenty plants to the square foot, and crowd out every vestige of a crop if allowed to remain. It is better to destroy the first plant.

Stubble ground may be cleared of most of its weeds by running over it with furrows, about two feet or more apart, and then harrowing the whole. The weeds will spring up in profusion, and the first plowing will turn the whole crop under. On soft mellow ground, harrowing alone will answer.

Feeding animals should be commenced early in the season—the earlier the better—when the same amount of food will accomplish more than in cold weather. One of the best managers of swine commences fattening in the spring and continues uninterruptedly throughout the season—the result of which is, together with good management, nearly double the amount of pork from the same quantity of feed as compared with the common practice.

Straw stacks, from early thrashed grain, should be made as carefully as stacks of hay. Straw is valuable in many ways, and is well worth saving bright and clean, instead of being thrown into irregular heaps, to become irregularly soaked with rains and spoiled for all practical use. Much hay may be saved when built in stacks by handsomely finishing the top with a load or two of good straw.

Harvest tools, as well as all other tools, on the day they are done with, should be carefully cleaned and brushed bright, and then securely placed under shelter. We are glad to be able to say that it is now much rarer to see horse rakes and mowing machines remaining half a month in the fields, exposed to the cracking sun and rotting storms, than formerly.

Draining wet lands in many instances can be done only during the present season. It should, therefore, be done promptly, and the result will often be an increased crop the first year, sufficient to pay the labor.

Muck swamps may frequently be drained without difficulty during the month of August or early in September, and will afford valuable supplies of material for compost heaps and for barnyard dressings. Being usually the driest at this period of the year, it may be shovelled out into heaps more readily, and with much less labor than when soaked with water. If the surfaces of these are made steep, and are beaten smooth with the spade, they will throw off water and become little affected inside. A covering of straw will be still more effectual. The muck will then be dry when drawn for use in the early part of winter; and be more valuable as an absorbent than if previously saturated with moisture.—Country Gentleman.

Oil for Preserving Cider.

When a barrel of cider is tapped it grows hard; that is, more and more acid, until it gets too hard to drink, if it is kept long on tap. This is occasioned by the air, which fills the cask above the cider as soon as it is drawn out. The air cannot be excluded, even if the cask were air-tight, because the cider will not run from the tap if there is no air to press it out. If the cider is exposed long to air, it will become vinegar. In fact, the way to make vinegar of cider is to expose it to the air as much as possible. To prevent the cider on tap from becoming acid, it is recommended, as soon as one or two gallons are drawn out, to pour into the bung-hole about a half a pint of clear sperm oil, or sweet oil if it is preferred. It should be warm when poured in, and it will spread in a thin coat over the surface, and keep spreading as the cider is drawn out, and thus exclude the air, without giving any taste of oil to the cider. This plan of preserving cider is worthy of farther attention. We have faith in it from knowing that oil casks are the best we know of for storing cider, imparting no flavor. Sperm oil casks are more valuable for cider casks than for any other purpose.

A few days since, while making our purchases of provisions in market, we were forcibly struck with the difference in size between the eggs in the baskets of several farmers, although the price asked was the same for each. So great was the disparity, that we purchased a dozen each from three different baskets, and for the purpose of ascertaining their weights correctly, took them to the warehouse of Fairbanks & Ewing, where they were carefully weighed on Fairbanks' standard scales, with the following results:

No. 1.—1 pound, 10¼ ounces.
No. 2.—1 pound, 7½ ounces.
No. 3.—1 pound, 3¼ ounces.

It will be seen that there was a difference of nearly half a pound between No. 1 and No. 3, and yet the price asked for them by those who had them for sale was the same. It may be said that this is an extreme case. We admit that it may properly be so considered, but if we take the weights of No. 1 and No. 2, we find a difference of nearly three ounces, or a little more than twelve per cent. As great difference is frequently found in the weight of oats, corn, wheat and other grains, and this disparity is largely increased where the measurer is skilful at his business. We should be glad to have the opinion of our practical farmers on the subject.—Journal of the Farm.

The Butter Season.

The cool weather of autumn is the most favorable season of the year for making butter and it should be the aim of every farmer or dairyman to produce the best possible article for market purposes. There is no disguising the fact that, with good cows, ample feed and much experience in butter making, many persons succeed in making a villainous compound of grease, milk and hair, designated by the name of butter, but having no legitimate relationship to it. Much of the butter of commerce is of this character—a fact for which there is no excuse.

Clean milking, clean pails, pans, crocks and churns, are the first requisites to the production of a good article of butter. This everybody knows, without being informed of it, but the trouble is, the practice is not up with the information possessed. Here is where reform, in many cases, should commence—followed by a kindred amendment in the manner of converting the cream into butter. If the buttermilk is not thoroughly worked out, a good article cannot be produced; if the salt used is foul, of poor quality and injudiciously applied—too much or too little—the butter will not be of a good quality nor command a top price in the market.

Sometimes all the pre-requisites to success are observed, and still a failure ensues from neglect in putting the butter down. This is important, if any considerable time is likely to intervene between the manufacture and use. It is safest and best to put butter down as though months were to pass before consumption, as the trouble and expense are little, if any, increased by the precaution. Press closely in the tubs, which should be well cleaned and brined before being used, and, as far as possible, exclude the air from the mass. When a crock or tub is full, sprinkle it well with pure rock salt and cover till wanted, and the chances are ninety-nine in a hundred that the butter will do credit to the maker months after being put down. Nothing new is claimed for this, but it is sometimes profitable to be reminded of things with which we have long been conversant, but, for the moment, forgotten.—Rural New Yorher.

Useful Hints.

Rich cheese feels soft under the pressure of the finger. That which is very strong is neither good nor healthy. To keep one that is cut, tie it in a cloth, put it in a cool, dry place. If mold appears on it wipe it off with a dry cloth.

Flour and meal of all kinds should be kept in a cool, dry place.

To select nutmegs, prick them with a pin. If they are good, the oil will instantly spread around the puncture.

Keep coffee by itself, as its odor affects other articles. Keep tea in a close chest or canister.

Oranges and lemons keep best wrapped close in soft paper, and laid in a drawer of linen.

Bread and cake should be kept in a tin box or stone jar.

Soft soap should be kept in a dry place in the cellar, and should not be used till three months old.

Bar soap should be cut into pieces of a convenient size, and laid where it will become dry. It is well to keep it several weeks before using, as it spends fast when it is new.

STRAWBERRIES.—Because your vines may have done bearing, do not stop cultivating; you may think they have yielded all the good you can get out of them; yet if you desire good crops in the future, be sure and remember the plants now—keep off all the runners, without fail, and keep off all the weeds. The best method of cultivation is in hills; rows or beds are likely to lead to slovenliness or neglect.

IN the well kept gardens of the Shakers at New Lebanon, New York, the luxuriant foliage and fine bloom of their large beds of roses attract attention every summer. The "brother" in charge of the roses says that his success in producing the foliage and flowers is to be attributed to the free use of salt as a top dressing for the soil of the beds. The salt kills rose insects of every kind, and also improves the health and vigor of the plants.

THE New York Observer tells of a clergyman whose horse died of bots. Some of the worms were put into spirits of turpentine and other fluids commonly fatal to vermin, but they were not at all affected. They were then put into the juice of the common potato, and died instantly. Another horse in the neighborhood was suffering severely from bots, when a quart of potato juice was poured down his throat; which soon relieved him of his pain, and a continuance of the treatment effected a permanent cure.

To expel red ants from any place, sprinkle it with ground coffee.

Trip Over the Federal Street and Pleasant Valley Passenger Railway—Trial of the Road—Everything Satisfactory.

Friday afternoon a party consisting of the Board of Directors and several friends of the enterprise and members of the press, took a trip over the Federal Street and Pleasant Valley Passenger Railway. The road is not in complete running order at present, the building of the cars having been unavoidably delayed. Through the kindness, however, of Superintendent Kountz, of the Manchester Passenger Railway, a car was furnished for the trip, the Directors wishing to test the smoothness and other points in regard to the laying of the track. Shortly after two o'clock the party started on their ride. The car ran smoothly along, free from jolts or jostling, a fact which evinces the care with which the rails have been laid. Starting at the Allegheny Postoffice the track runs up Federal street to North avenue, and along North avenue to Monterey street, where the double track ends. Commencing here a single track, with the requisite number of switches, runs along Monterey, Jackson and Fremont streets, Washington avenue, Taggart street, Union avenue, and Charles street, terminating about 300 yards above the mouth of Pleasant Valley, formerly called Snyder's Ho low. The Road was built under the supervision of John T. Gordon, and is a capital piece of workmanship in that line. It was commenced on the first of June last, and when completed and fully equipped will cost at out $30,000. The company have ordered five handsome cars of a new design, which are being constructed at the establishment of Stevens & Co., Philadelphia. As soon as they arrive, the road will be opened for business.

It runs through a section of the city, as yet not very densely populated but destined at no distant day to be one of the most thickly settled portions of Allegheny. All along the line, and especially near i s terminus, we noticed new buildings in course of erection. It can hardly fail to become one of the best paying roads in this vicinity, and if managed properly the stockholders will have reason to congratulate themselves on having embarked in the enterprise.

The following are the officers:

Vice Pessident—A. Leggate.
Secretary—W. M. Claney.

[Owing to the press of other matter, this notice was crowded out of Saturday,s issue.]

Most Bitters of the present day that are loudly puffed through the newspapers as having great curative properties are vile compounds and base impositions, containing no medicinal virtues whatever, and are really very poor whisky beverages, and, instead of acting as a stimulant and tonic, have a tendency to weaken the stomach by entirely destroying the coating. The public should therefore be very cautious and purchase none but Roback's Stomach Bitters, which have stood the test as a remedial agent for many years, and are really as their name indicates, a stomach bitters and not a beverage. They combine the properties of the best tonic and a stimulant—a laxative, an efficient and anti-bilious agent and the best stomachic known to the world, and when taken in conjunction with Roback's Blood Pills, are the safest and surest preventive against all bilious derangements, thoroughly regulating the whole system and giving tone to the digestive organs.

They are highly recommended as an invigorating tonic to mothers while nursing, increasing the flow of milk, and for convalescents, to restore the prostration which always follows long-continued sickness, they are unsurpassed. No household should consider themselves safe from the ordinary maladies without these invaluable medicines. They can be obtained of any druggist. TTSF

RECOMMENDATIONS.

The following are a few selected from the multitude of recommendations in our possession:

[From W. P. Heald, Esq., Bangor, Me.]
BANGOR, Me., April 24, 1868.

I hereby certify that I have used tobacco for thirty years past, and for the last fifteen years I have used two pounds per month. I have made attempts to leave off at different times. I have left off one year at a time, but always continued to hanker for it until I used Orton's Preparation, which has completely cured me of the appetite for tobacco. I would recommend all who are affected with this terrible habit to try the preparation, which will certainly cure it if the directions are followed.
W. P. HEALD.

[From E. W. Adkins, Knoxville, Tenn.]
KNOXVILLE, Tenn., August 5, 1867.

This is to certify that I had used tobacco to such an extent that my health had become greatly impaired, and my whole system deranged and broken down. In June, 1867, I purchased one box of Orton's Preparation, and after using it I found that I was completely cured. I have not had any hankering or desire for tobacco since using the preparation. I believe it to be all that it is recommended, and I would advise all who wish to quit the use of tobacco to try one box of Orton's Preparation.
E. W. ADKINS.

[From John Morrill, Bangor, Me.]
BANGOR, Me., March 24, 1868.

This is to certify that I have used tobacco for eighteen years; have tried many times to leave off, but have suffered so much from a dizziness in my head, and gnawing at my stomach, that I have soon given up the trial. A short time since a friend induced me to try Orton's Preparation (sold by you.) I have done so, and am completely cured. I did not in the least hanker after tobacco, either to smoke or chew, after I began to use the Preparation.

SAFETY FIRE JACKET.

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United states Letters Patent for a safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

THURSDAY—

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Rooms of the Christian Association, No. 23 Fifth street.

Painted.—The street lamps in Allegheny have received several coats of black paint to preserve them from the rust.

Opened.—The public schools of both cities opened yesterday after the usual vacation. The attendance was quite large for the first day.

A vote taken on the Erie Express train, due in this city yesterday afternoon, resulted: Grant, 101; Seymour, 42. Straws show the way the wind blows.

Improving.—Soap, water and muscle are being freely expended in improving the appearance of the offices of the Panhandle Railroad Company on Grant street.

Allegheny Letter Carriers' Report.—Following is the report of the Allegheny letter carriers for the month of August: Delivered—mail letters, 32,141; drop letters, 2,945; papers, 19,777; total, 54,413. Collected—mail letters, 29,410; drop letters; 306; papers, 430; total, 11,146.

Accident to a Hose Carriage.—While the Relief hose carriage was being drawn down Sixth street in response to the alarm of fire on Friday evening, the traces broke, letting the shafts down, which were snapped in two and the carriage overturned, damaging it to a considerable extent.

We are glad to know that the Western University, which commences its session to-day, has very good prospects. The number who have already offered themselves for the College classes is unusually large. The advantages offered here are equal to those enjoyed in our best colleges.

Alleged Butter Thief.—H. D. Carey made information yesterday, before Alderman Taylor, against George S. Woods for larceny. Mr. Casey says a barrel of butter belonging to him was stolen from the depot of the Allegheny Valley Railroad, and he has reason to believe that Woods is the thief. A warrant was issued.

Burglary.—Some thieves during Saturday night procured a ladder and ascended to the windows of one of the upper stories of Messrs. D. W. & A. S. Bell's law office, which they entered and ransacked thoroughly, carrying away several pairs of boots and other articles of value. No clue to the perpetrators has been discovered.

The End.—The Illinoisan who made such a noise about being taken in by a couple of sharpers at the Union Depot the other evening bought a ticket at the office of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railroad and started for the west yesterday. His little game to get a free pass would'nt pass current in Pittsburgh, and he concluded to travel in the usual way, by paying his fare.

Serious Accident.—Sunday afternoon a nail cutter, residing in the Thirteenth ward, while going down Arthur street approached the window of a dwelling and sent his two fists crashing through the glass. He suffered for his folly pretty severely, having both hands terribly gashed and the artery of the right wrist severed. Officers McIlwaine and Bell noticed the action and conveyed the man to the lock-up, where his wounds were properly dressed.

Struck the Wrong Man.—As officer John Stewart was arresting a drunken fellow on Diamond alley he received a deep knife cut in the right hand from his prisoner. Calling assistance to him he endeavored to take the knife from the fellow, and meeting with resistance found himself compelled to use a handy billy, with which he aimed a strong blow. Unluckily it struck the head of the confederate policeman, inflicting a very painful wound.

Mr. Frederick Schmidt, of our city, was elected "Great Junior Sagamore of the United States," by the "Independent Order of Red Men," last week, in Philadelphia, a well deserved compliment. This is the second highest office in the Order, and the promotion of Mr. Schmidt will be productive of prosperous results. No worthier gentleman could have been honored with the office, and we are glad that our German friends place a proper estimate on his merits.

Shooting Affair.—Last night John Little, of the Eighth ward, and a colored man named Penry Kleggart got into a quarrel at the corner of Wylie and Townsend streets, during which blows were exchanged. Little drew a revolver and fired twice. The first shot missed, but the second took effect in the right arm of Kleggart through which it passed and lodged in the breast. The wound, though serious, can hardly prove fatal. Little was arrested taken before Alderman Lindsay, and held in the sum of $1,000 for a hearing in the case.

A Regular Mill.—On Sunday evening two muscular chaps, who had been drinking during the day, had a dispute, which they concluded to settle according to the rules of the prize ring. Accordingly they adjourned to a spot near Zug & Co.'s rolling mill, formed a ring, stripped and went in. A large crowd collected around to witness the interesting and elevating spectacle, and after the combatants had pummelled each other faithfully, they were separated by the bystanders, through whose efforts the matter was finally compromised.

Alleged False Pretence.—Louis Hickey made information yesterday before Alderman McMasters against Jos. Halloran for false pretence. Hickey alleges that he keeps a boarding house in McClure Township and that he boarded a party of men who were employed by Halloran in grading a road in the vicinity, Halloran representing that he would see that the men paid their bills after the work was completed. Hickey alleges that the defendant paid the men for their work, keeping back from each however the amount of the boarding bill but neglecting to pay the money over to him. Halloran was arrested and gave bail for a further hearing.

Attempted Highway Robbery.

On Saturday evening about eight o'clock Mr. M. H Parker, residing on Union avenue, Allegheny, was walking from his residence toward Ohio street, and when near the Methodist Church he was attacked by a ruffian, who struck him a powerful blow on the head which almost rendered him insensible. Rallying somewhat Mr. Parker called for the police, which alarmed his assailant, who disappeared very quickly down an alley in the vicinity. His design evidently was to rob Mr. Parker, in which he was, however, fortunately unsuccessful. The thoroughfare and the hour at which it was attempted make it an act of bold and audacious daring, which seems remarkable.

Painful Accident—Leg Amputated.

On Saturday evening as one of the engines was backing along one of the tracks in the yard of the outer depot of the Pennsylvania Railroad, Mr. Wesley Wrigle, the fireman, was sitting with his feet hanging out of the window when a freight train approached on a side track, passing so close to the shifting engine that one of the legs of the man was caught between the locomotive and a car and mangled in a horrible manner. He was removed to his boarding house and Drs. Dickson and Hamilton were called in, who, after an examination, decided that amputation would be necessary. which operation they successfully performed yesterday. The unfortunate victim is about seventeen years of age and resides at Altoona. He will probably recover, but will require great care.

Your Committee on City Property have had before them the communication from Geo. Fortune, Esq., Secretary to the Board of Health, urging upon Councils the necessity of providing a city hospital for the care of persons suffering from contagious diseases, which was referred to them in Councils July 27, 1868. Your Committee having given the subject careful consideration are of the opinion that a great public necessity exists for a hospital, and would respectfully urge that immediate action be taken for the purchase of a lot of ground on some elevated position at a convenient distance from the city, and the erection thereon of suitable buildings for hospital purposes.

The report was accepted. On motion the report was then referred back to the Committee who were authorized to select a location and report to Council.

THE PUBLIC PARK QUESTION.

Mr. Gross presented the following report from the Park Committee:

Whereas, By a joint resolution of Councils the undersigned were appointed a Committee to procure a site for a public park; and whereas, the said Committee are unwilling to determine the main question involved in said resolution without an expression of the sense of the people upon the same; therefore,

Resolved, That the Mayor be and is hereby authorized and directed to issue his proclamation directing an election to be held in the city of Pittsburgh by the proper officers on the —— day of ——, 1868, between the hours of —— and —— o'clock of said day, and that the legal voters therein be allowed to vote for or against the establishment of a city park.

[Signed by the Committee.]

Accompanying the above was the following communication from the Assistant Secretary of War, in reply to a letter from Maj. A. M. Brown, relative to the removal of the Arsenal:

A. M. Brown, Esq., Secretary of Committee of Councils:

SIR: Your letter of the 13th inst. to the Secretary of War has been referred to this office. In answer I have to state that it is not now contemplated nor deemed desirable at this office to sell the arsenal at Pittsburgh, nor is there authority to do so without a previous act of Congress directing it to be done.

[Signed,] A. B. DYER,
Chief of Ordinance.

The report and communication were read and accepted and ordered to be filed.

REPORT OF THE CONTROLLER.

Mr. Gross submitted a report from the City Controller relative to a petition of John Laughran, and the opinion of the City Solicitor on the bill of Mr. L., due him by the defaulting Road Commissioner, John W. Young. The Finance Committee, under advice, recommended duplicate warrants for the deficit $1,775.15, on appropriation No. 22; and, further, that the City Attorney proceed against the sureties of said Young. Accompanying the report was also a statement of the condition of the several appropriations for the first six months of the fiscal year, showing the amount and number of warrants drawn, and the balances in each case. The Controller says: Two of the appropriations are exhausted and it will require careful management to prevent the majority of them falling into the same condition before the close of the fiscal year. City printing owes at the present time between two and three thousand dollars and will require from three to five more to carry it through. After consulting with the proper committee, I have made arrangements whereby a certain portion will be returned to the City Treasurer hereafter. I would recommend to order that no ordinances for private parties should be placed on record or go into effect until such party or parties shall have paid to the Treasurer all costs for advertising and recording. In order that all claims may be paid, it will be necessary to make transfers, and I would recommend the following to wit: From No. 2 to No. 13, $2,000; from No. 8 to No. 3, $3,000; from No. 8 to No. 9, $1,000; from No. 8 to No. 2, $2,000; from No. 8 to No. 22, $1,000; from No. 23 to No. 22, $2,000. This I believe, is about the best that can be done.

You will also find a state statement of the revenue received till date, and a comparison with the amount paid last year in seven corresponding months, showing the increase or decrease in each item of Revenue.

[Signed,] THOMAS STEELE,
Controller.

The report was accepted and a resolution authorizing the proposed transfers was adopted.

Mr. Gross offered a resolution authorizing the Controller to issue warrants to the Commissioners on City Indebtedness for $1,750, and for street crossing bills as follows: Hastings and O'Neil, $348.56; K. Bracken, $44,96; W. F. Campbell, $42,77; Edward Allen, $1,471.61, and charge the same to No. 13, Contingent Fund. Adopted.

Mr. Kehew, an ordinance providing for the grading and paving of Dinwiddie street. Passed finally.

Mr. Wainwright submitted a resolution providing for the establishment of a permanent grade for the Greensburgh pike. Adopted.

In all of which the Common Council concurred.

Council adjourned.

Common Council.

Council was called to order by the President at half-past two o'clock.

In the absence of the regular Clerk, Mr. Will M. Hartzell was chosen to act in his stead.

The following members answered: Messrs. Ahlborn, Barton, Batchelor, Brush, Berger, Boggs, Caskey, Carroll, Daub, Davis, Fitzsimmons, Gerner, Hare, Hemphill, Herron, House, Jeremy, Kramer, McCleane, Moorhead, Mawhinney, Palmer, Rebman, Reed, Robb, Reynolds, Rosewell, A. Mr. McCleane offered a petition for a boardwalk on Neville street. Referred to Road Committee. S. C. concurred.

Mr. Weldon presented the report of the Street Committee in regard to the widening of Greensburgh pike. The Committee recommended adoption of plans suggested by the Survey Committee. The petition of the Pittsburgh and Allegheny Bridge Company for privilege of occupying a portion of Duquesne Way has been held over for further consideration. The Committee submit the following ordinances: One for the opening of Hazlet street, and for paving Diamond alley from Wood street to the Diamond with Nicolson pavement; one for opening Mulberry alley from Mechanic street to Swinefart's line; one for opening Forbes street, from Try to Boyd street; one for opening Harrison street, from Mill street to Shoenberger street; one for grading Spring alley, from Smith to Clymer street. All the ordinances were laid over except that relating to the Diamond alley pavement, which was passed. S. C. concurred.

Mr. McCleane presented the report of the Road Committee. The Committee has had before it a petition for a board walk on Centre street, which was considered favorably, and an ordinance for the construction of said walk presented. The bill of English and G. Flower, for work done under J. B. Young, defaulting Road Commissioner, has been referred to the City Solicitor for his opinion. J. Woodrow, Jr., has been selected to fill Young's place, and his appointment asked. Report accepted and approved. S. C. concurred, accepting report of Road Committee.

Mr. Herron presented the report of the Survey Committee, asking for a survey of Washington street, East Liberty, for the opening of Boundary street to the Monongahela river; an ordinance widening Aiken's lane, Twentieth ward; an ordinance opening Forbes street; an ordinance opening Neville street; an ordinance locating Sand street. The following ordinances were now taken up and passed finally: One for the opening of St. Mary's avenue, Lawrenceville; for opening Charlotte street; for changing the names of streets; for grading and paving Smallman alley.

The ordinance relieving the Oakland Passenger Railway from keeping the streets along which it passes in repair, was called up.

Mr. Hare opposed it. He did not believe in taking the burden from the shoulders of a railway company and placing it on those of the people.

Mr. Brush was in favor of relieving the company. He said its financial condition was very poor.

Messrs. Barton and Robb believed it would be well to pass the ordinance.

Mr. Hare said he would not give his assent to voting five or six thousand dollars additional tax on the people, and wanted to see the names of the members who would.

It was agreed to reduce the time from five to three years on motion of Mr. Hare.

Mr. A. Scott was opposed to granting the privilege at all and called for the yeas and nays, which resulted as follows:

Ayes—Messrs. Ahlborn, Barton, Batchelor, Boggs, Brush, Carroll, Gerner, Hare, Hemphill, Herron, House, Jeremy, Mawhinney, Rebman, Reed, Robb, Torrens, Verner, Vick, Weldon, Welsh and President Tomlinson—22.

Nays—Messrs Berger, Caskey, Daub, Dravo, Davis, Fitzsimmons, Kremer, Meyer, Moorhead, Reynolds, Rosewell, Scott, A., Sims, Torley and Zern—15.

The ordinance was therefore passed as modified. S. C. laid on the table.

In the matter of changing the places of holding elections in some of the wards, which came from Select Council, Mr. Torley objected, and in regard to the Third ward, when it was proposed to change to the Court House, moved to amend by retaining their polls in their present location, corner of Wylie and Tunnel streets. He said that the project of removal was sprung upon the voters there and was unfair and unjust.

Mr. Robb was of the same opinion, and seconded the amendment, which was carried. S. C. adhered to its former action and finally C. C. receded and concurred.

Mr. Herron called up the ordinance from the Survey Committee, relative to the opening of Forbes street. Passed finally. Not reached in S. C.

Mr. Weldon called up the ordinance for the grading and paving of Spring alley, from Rush to Clymer streets. Passed finally. Not reached in S. C.

Mr. Ahlborn presented a petition for a gas lamp on Hazlett alley. Referred to Gas Committee. Not reached in S. C.

Mr. Dravo presented a resolution authorizing the Road Committee to confer with the Greensburg Turnpike Company relative to the purchase of that portion of the road within the city limits and the removal of the toll-gates from the same. Read three times and passed. Not reached in S. C.

Grand Conclave of the Order of Seven Wise Men.

The grand Conclave of the United States of the Order of Seven Wise Men commenced its annual meeting in this city yesterday morning, at Neptune Hall, Seventh street Previous to the assemblage of the Conclave a procession of the members of the order in this city passed through the principal streets, which, although not large, made a very fine appearance. The procession was headed by a squad of the Mayor's police, after whom followed the Great Western Brass Band. The members and officers of the grand conclave, in carriages, came next, and were followed by the resident members of the order on foot, preceded by a brass band. Prominent among the features of the display were too large cars decorated with flowers and evergreens, filled with little girls dressed in white carrying small flags in their hands. Another striking feature was seven boys dressed in white pants made in Zouave style, white blouses or gowns tied around the waist with a girdle, or colored ribbons and white turbans also tied with ribbons of different colors. There were probably seven hundred members in line. The order is very little known in this community, but is said to be extending. It is beneficiary in its objects. The grand body is composed of the delegates from the subordinate conclaves, and will probably remain in session for several days.

The Pittsburgh Female College—Re-opening To-morrow.

This home institution, in which all Pittsburghers centre so much pride, will re-open to-morrow for the reception of pupils after a brief season of vacation. During the past few weeks the College buildings, the best of the character in the State, have been thoroughly refitted and beautified, the management having spared neither pains nor expense to render them equal in every respect, and vastly superior in many, to any College in the United States. More than three thousand dollars have been judiciously expended in improving the interior of the class and study rooms, dining halls and chambers, the latter department having been supplied with new furniture and carpets. The Faculty has been re-organized and is now much stronger than ever in all of the various departments of education, none but first class teachers having been engaged. In the faculty and among the pupils representatives are found from Maine to Omaha, and the incoming session promises to prove one of the most prosperous ever enjoyed by the College. Parents, guardians and others who have daughters or wards to educate will do well to pay this model educational institute for young ladies a visit, and discover for themselves its many claims for their preference.

Almost a Serious Accident

Yesterday morning as Dr. J. D. Karns of the drugstore of Dr. Joseph Abel, corner of Grant and Fifth street, was engaged in charging the soda water apparatus of that establishment, a terrific explosion of the acid ball occurred, blowing the cap with much velocity some twelve feet, against a wall, and scattering the acid in all directions. Dr. Karns was enveloped with sprinklings of the fluid and had his shirt and clothing burned almost to pieces. His escape from death was almost miraculous, but as it was he sustained only slight burning. The accident arose from the fact that the retort had been improperly soldered by a plumber who had been employed to fix it when out of repair a few weeks ago. Had the repairs been properly made no such accident could have occurred, as the apparatus is capable of withstanding a pressure of two hundred pounds, but exploded in this instance at one hundred and twenty-five. We congratulate our friend on his fortunate escape from more serious if not fatal injuries.

Little Girl Injured.

Last evening a drunken fellow was staggering up Wylie street, when the attention of a party of children was attracted to his movements, which caused them to follow and tease him. When at the corner of Logan and Wylie streets the the fellow turned round and caught hold of one of the children, a little girl named Matsell. The effort of turning around and grasping the child was too much for his equilibrium and he fell to the ground, injuring the child very seriously by falling upon her. She was picked up and conveyed into a store near by, a physician in the meantime being sent for. Dr. Gallaher arrived soon after the accident and pronounced the injuries of a very serious character, her neck being badly bruised, as well as other parts of her body. She is at present lying in a precarious condition at the residence of her mother, a widow lady, who resides on Congress street.

Mistaken Identity.

Clara McDonald made information before the Mayor yesterday, charging Thos. G. McGern with disorderly conduct. It appears that Mrs. McDonald's husband left her about eleven years since, and she has every reason to believe that he is dead. Some time since she married again and had been living pleasantly with her second husband until about two weeks ago when McGern made his appearance in the city and claimed to be her first husband. She says he is an imposter, and refuses to give him any countenance whatever, yet he persists in presenting his claims as her rightful "lord and master" in such a manner as to become annoying to her. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

The contest to-morrow to fill the vacancy in Common Council from the Second ward, Allegheny, is attracting considerable attention on the other side of the river. The fight is between Bernard Gray, Esq., independent Citizens' candidate, and Alfred Slack, who is the Republican nominee. Mr. Gray's friends are very active, and their exertions will doubtless insure him victory. He is an energetic citizen, and has been identified with many beneficial enterprises. Through his exertions the Pleasant Valley Passenger Railway was pushed to completion, and the people of the Second ward have been benefitted, and should be grateful. Mr. Gray is largely interested in the ward, paying annually a tax amounting to $1,600.

CAUTION!

TO BUYERS OF TEA.

C. A. BOUCHER,

OPPOSITE POST OFFICE.

Original Red Front Tea Warehouse

The undersigned would respectfully call the attention of buyers of Teas to the inconsistent and false statements made by the

BOGUS TEA COMPANIES

Of the present day. Men with scarcely sufficient knowledge of Tea to distinguish Black from Green are advertising themselves as the Great Tea Companies of the country, and claim to sell the best Teas at from 80c. to $1.25 per lb. More apparent falsehood and misrepresentation was never published.

To prove the outrageous nature of such claims it is only necessary to refer to published reports of daily Auction Sales of Teas, by the cargo, in the great market of New York, at which fine Teas cannot be bought for less than from $1.50 to $1.90 per lb.

Another active means of fraud in Tea Stores is giving SHORT WEIGHT instead of 16 OUNCES FOR A POUND.

In this way many buyers are misled into the belief that they are purchasing goods at a reasonable cost, when, in fact, they are, by these means, swindled into paying excessive prices.

The undersigned will give a

REWARD OF $50,

for each and every case of short weight of tea, other goods, as weighed on his tested scales.

GLYCERINE TOILET SOAP,

MANUFACTURED BY

PETER SQUIRE, 277 Oxford street' London

This Soap has been, by a peculiar process, freed from the excess of alkali almost invariably found even in the purest Soaps, and at the same time it is made to take up a large quantity of Glycerine (7 per cent). It is to this latter substance that it chiefly owes its soothing quality—softening the skin, preserving the complexion, preventing chappings and the unpleasant roughness experienced in cold weather. It is found most useful in alleviating the irritation produced by dryness of the skin. On account of its great purity it recommends itself to persons that suffer from the use of common Soaps for delicate skins it is the only Soap that can be tolerated. It is particularly useful for cleansing diseased skins, where the irritation produced by ordinary Soaps causes so much inconvenience. It is the most agreeable Shaving Soap that can be used, leaving the skin soft and comfortable. The Soaps usually sold as Glycerine Soaps contain little or no Glycerine. It is only necessary to apply the tongue to the surface and the genuine will be distinguished by its sweet taste. Agent,
